ABSTRACT

This publication reports the results of the annual survey conducted by the U.S. Office of Education on the status of programs that lead to associate degrees, diplomas, and other awards below the baccalaureate. Data for the report were obtained from the questionnaire on Degrees and Other Formal Awards conferred between July 1, 1969 and June 30, 1970. Highlights of the findings are: (1) 206,753 associate degrees were awarded in 1969-70, a 12.3% increase over 1968-69; (2) public 2-year institutions conferred 76% of the associate degrees awarded in 1969-70 as compared to 73% in 1968-69; (3) a total of 134,913 awards were made in the organized occupational curriculums--124,327 at the technical or semiprofessional level and 10,856 below that level; (4) 46,431 awards were in business- and commerce-related fields, 28,959 in engineering-related fields, and 26,778 in health service fields; and (5) women received 43.1% of all associate degrees, 47.1% of all awards based on organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level, and 38.6% of all awards based on organized occupational curriculums below the technical or semiprofessional level. HIGHLIGHTS

1. Associate degrees totaling 206,753 were reported in 1969-70 by 1,107 of the 1,296 institutions of higher education in the United States responding to this survey and supplying data on associate degrees and on completions of organized occupational curriculums below the baccalaureate level. This represented an increase of 12.3 percent over the 184,113 associate degrees reported for the year 1968-69.

2. Public 2-year institutions conferred 76 percent of the 206,753 associate degrees awarded in 1969-70, compared with 73 percent in 1968-69.

3. In the organized occupational curriculums, in 1969-70, a total of 134,913 awards were made--124,327 awards at the technical or semiprofessional level and 10,586 below that level.

4. In 1969-70, business- and commerce-related accounted for 46,431 awards (37.3 percent), engineering-related for 28,959 awards (23.3 percent), and health service for 26,778 awards (21.5 percent) of the 124,327 awards made in organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level.

5. Women received in 1969-70:

   43.1 percent of all associate degrees (42.5 percent in 1968-69).
   47.1 percent of all awards based on organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level (46.9 percent in 1968-69).
   38.6 percent of all awards based on organized occupational curriculums below the technical or semiprofessional level (36.5 percent in 1968-69).

6. All institutions to which the survey questionnaire was sent responded to the Office of Education request for data--a response rate of 100 percent.

FOREWORD

This publication reports the results of the annual survey conducted by the U. S. Office of Education on the status of programs which lead to associate degrees, diplomas, and other awards below the baccalaureate based on less than 4 years of work beyond high school in U. S. institutions of higher education.

Data for this report were obtained from the questionnaire on Degrees and Other Formal Awards Conferred Between July 1, 1969, and June 30, 1970, which is part of the fifth Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS).

As in 1968-69, the registrars in all institutions to which questionnaires were sent responded to the request for data. The Office of Education is deeply appreciative of this splendid cooperation.

INTRODUCTION

Background of Survey

Data on associate degrees and on completions of occupational curriculums below the baccalaureate level are collected in part C from the questionnaire on Degrees and Other Formal Awards Conferred, which is included in the annual Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS). Beginning with the survey of degrees and awards conferred in 1965-66 (part of the first HEGIS), the data have been obtained and reports have been issued as follows:

Survey year	Report
1965-66)) 1966-67)	Associate Degrees and Other Formal Awards Below the Baccalaureate, 1965-66 and 1966-67 (OE-54045)
1967-68	Associate Degrees and Other Formal Awards Below the Baccalaureate, 1967-68 (OE-54045-68)
1968-69	Associate Degrees and Other Formal Awards Below the Baccalaureate, 1968-69 (OE-54045-69)
1969-70	The present report

Between 1956 and 1962, prior to the HEGIS series, six surveys of organized occupational curriculums were conducted. The report of the sixth survey in that group, published in 1965, was titled: Guide to Organized Occupational Curriculums in Higher Education, Graduates: July 1, 1961, Through June 30, 1962; and Enrollments: October 1, 1962 (OE 54012-62, Circular No. 771).

The Present Report

As noted above, the data were collected from the HEGIS survey questionnaire on Degrees and Other Formal Awards Conferred Between July 1, 1969, and June 30, 1970, part C, "Degrees and Completions Based on Less Than 4 Years of Work Beyond High School." (See part C of the survey questionnaire reproduced in the appendix of this report. The totals shown in each data cell on the questionnaire form are those for the aggregate United States.)

This report provides extensive summary data as well as data for individual institutions on the following:

A. Associate degrees meeting the bachelor's-degree-credit criterion (section 1 of part C of the questionnaire)

B. Awards in organized occupational curriculums for work at the technical or semiprofessional level (sections 3 and 4 of part C of the questionnaire)

C. Awards in organized occupational curriculums for work below the technical or semiprofessional level (section 2 of part C of the questionnaire)

There is a large and unknown amount of overlap between items A and B. The "A" group includes associate degrees in arts and sciences as well as in organized occupational curriculums. The "B" group includes associate degrees as well as other types of awards (diplomas, certificates, or other formal recognition) in organized occupational curriculums.

CURRENT TRENDS

Associate Degrees

Section 1, part C, of the survey instrument furnished the data on associate degrees conferred by U. S. institutions of higher education in 1969-70. Section 1 is restricted to associate degrees based on work that is wholly or chiefly creditable toward a bachelor's degree. Some of the associate degrees were awarded in arts, sciences, or general programs not occupationally oriented, while other associate degrees were awarded in organized occupational curriculums which also met the bachelor's-degree-credit criterion.

Associate degrees not based on occupational curriculums are reported only in section 1, but there is some duplicate reporting of completions of programs that are occupationally oriented. The associate degrees in organized occupational curriculums which meet the bachelor's-degree-credit criterion are reported in section 1 and also in section 3 or 4. It should be pointed out that completions listed in section 2 would rarely be duplicated in section 1; normally the organized occupational curriculums reported in section 2 do not meet the bachelor's-degree-credit criterion, because these are programs that are below the technical or semiprofessional level. There is no duplicate reporting among sections 2, 3, and 4. The extent of the duplication between section 1 and sections 3 and 4 could not be determined from the survey.

Data in section 1 on associate degrees for the past four surveys are statistically comparable. Comparisons of data for all four years are shown in table A.

Associate degrees in 1969-70 totaled 206,753, as reported by 1,107 institutions of higher education in the United States. This was an increase of 12.3 percent over the total of 184,113 associate degrees reported by 1,062 institutions in 1968-69. The two preceding comparisons between survey years show increases of 15.0 percent between 1967-68 and 1968-69 and 14.5 percent between 1966-67 and 1967-68.

The 12.3-percent increase between 1968-69 and 1969-70 is the lowest percent increase during the 4-year survey span. Between 1968-69 and 1969-70 the percent increase for men was 11.1 percent, compared with 13.9 percent for women. The number of women as a percent of the total number of associate degree recipients has remained remarkably steady from year to year, ranging only from 42.5 percent to 43.8 percent.

The distribution of the 206,753 associate degrees by type of degree showed associate in arts, 128,054 (62 percent); associate in science, 40,849 (20 percent); and other associate degrees, 37,850 (18 percent). Publicly controlled 2-year institutions conferred 76 percent of the associate degrees awarded in 1969-70, compared with 73 percent in 1968-69.

Awards in Organized Occupational Curriculums At and Below the Technical or Semiprofessional Level

Awards in organized occupational curriculums include certain associate degrees (as noted in the preceding section) as well as a variety of diplomas, certificates, or other types of formal recognition. These awards are made upon the completion of organized occupational curriculums intended to prepare students for immediate employment in specialized positions from just below the professional level (which usually requires a bachelor's or higher degree for entry) to those requiring very limited occupational training beyond the high school level. These awards are divided by level of curriculum into two categories:

1. Organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level (sections 3 and 4, part C of the questionnaire).

2. Organized occupational curriculums below the technical or semiprofessional level (section 2, part C of the questionnaire).

The data for each of these two categories are further analyzed by curriculum content and by length of program. Table B summarizes data for the various broad curricular categories.

Awards in Organized Occupational Curriculums at the Technical or Semiprofessional Level

Data for organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level are divided into two general types of curriculums: Science- or engineering-related curriculums (in section 3, part C, of the 1969-70 survey questionnaire) and a number of other types of curriculums (nonscience- and nonengineering-related), the most numerous of which are those related to business and commerce (in section 4). For the last three survey years, 1967-68, 1968-69, and 1969-70, survey data for organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level are considered to be comparable, although the surveys were not completely identical with respect to list of fields covered. Changes introduced in the 1967-68 and 1968-69 surveys are described in the publications for those years.

Awards in organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level, combining data by length and type of curriculum, totaled 124,327 in 1969-70 compared with 108,088 in 1968-69, an increase of 16,239 or 15.0 percent. This is a lesser increase than that observed in 1968-69, when the increase was 20,006 or 22.7 percent. Of the total of 124,327 awards in 1969-70, women received 58,561 awards or 47.1 percent. In 1968-69, the number for women was 50,736 or 46.9 percent of the total. In 1969-70, the curriculums in business- and commerce-related accounted for 46,431 awards (37.3 percent), engineering-related for 28,959 awards (23.3 percent), and health service for 26,778 awards (21.5 percent) of the total of 124,327 awards.

Table C gives some comparisons between 1968-69 and 1969-70 by curriculum category. It may be noted that all four curriculum categories show increases from 1968-69 to 1969-70, but the relative increases were less than those between 1967-68 and 1968-69 for all categories except the shorter (at least 1 but less than 2 years) curriculums that were nonscience- and nonengineering-related; these increased 24.0 percent from 1968-69 to 1969-70, compared with an increase of 15.8 percent from 1967-68 to 1968-69.

Awards to women as a percent of the total awards in 1969-70 increased only in longer curriculums in science- or engineering-related fields (37.0 percent in 1969-70, compared with 33.5 percent in 1968-69). It is the gain by women in this area specifically that accounts for the slight increase mentioned above in the proportion of women in the combined count of awards in all four curriculum categories--from 46.9 percent in 1968-69 to 47.1 percent in 1969-70.

Awards in Organized Occupational Curriculums Below the Technical or Semiprofessional Level

Data on awards in organized occupational curriculums below the technical or semiprofessional level were collected in section 2, part C, of the 1969-70 survey questionnaire. Data were collected, without field breakdowns, by the same general classifications as those used at the higher level: science- or engineering-related and nonscience- and nonengineering-related.

Survey data for these curriculums are statistically comparable for the last two survey years, 1968-69 and 1969-70. In the 1967-68 survey there was some overreporting by institutions that had misunderstood how to classify these curriculums, so that comparisons with 1967-68 would be likely to reflect misclassification of curriculums rather than actual increases or decreases in the curriculums.

Awards in organized occupational curriculums below the technical or semiprofessional level, combining data by length and type of curriculum, totaled 10,586 in 1969-70, compared with 10,578 in 1968-69. Of the total of 10,586 awards in 1969-70, women received 4,081 awards or 38.6 percent. In 1968-69, the number of women was 3,860 or 36.5 percent.

Table D gives some comparisons between 1968-69 and 1969-70 data. The shorter curriculums (at least 1 but less than 2 years) show overall gains from 1968-69 to 1969-70; the longer curriculums (at least 2 but less than 4 years) show overall decreases for the same period.

SURVEY COVERAGE AND METHODOLOGY

Institutions Included

The Office of Education's higher education survey universe for 1969-70 is described in Fall Enrollment in Higher Education, 1969--Supplementary Information: Summary Data (DHEW Publication No. (OE) 72-6). The survey instrument was mailed to all institutions in this universe. Each institution was requested to supply data in all applicable parts of the survey--data on bachelor's and higher degrees as well as on awards below the bachelor's level. (The present report is confined to data below the bachelor's level.) The Office of Education staff made extensive efforts to obtain a full response from every institution in the universe.

Data were furnished by 1,296 institutions of higher education in the United States and its outlying areas ("aggregate United States"). These 1,296 institutions, as far as the Office of Education could determine, represent the total number of institutions (in the survey universe) that granted associate degrees and/or other formal awards below the baccalaureate during the period from July 1, 1969, through June 30, 1970.

Since each of the 1,296 institutions in 1969-70 responded with complete survey data, there was no necessity for the Office of Education to make any imputations or to provide any estimates for data categories in this report.

The numbers of institutions in the 1969-70 survey were as follows:

		Control
	Total	Public	Private
All institutions	1,296	808	488
4-year institutions	446	191	255
Universities	93	64	29
Other 4-year and over	353	127	226
2-year institutions	850	617	233

This survey does not include those technical schools or other institutions that are not eligible for listing in the "Higher Education Directory"1/ published by the Office of Education. Many of these institutions, as well as organizations in business, industry, and labor, have technical education programs beyond the high school level for the purpose of meeting the needs of the individuals and their employers.

1/ Education Directory, 1970-71, Higher Education, OE-5000-71.

Degrees and Completions Based on Less Than 4 Years

This survey includes all those associate degrees that were based on at least 2 but less than 4 years of work beyond the high school level that were wholly or chiefly creditable toward a bachelor's degree either at the reporting institution or by transfer to another institution. Also included were diplomas and other formal awards or recognition based on completion of organized occupational curriculums. (See appendix, section C of the survey instrument, for the survey instructions with the criteria for inclusion in each of the four sections of part C which concern this report.)

On account of the range of specialization of occupational training--from training for positions just below the professional level to training for much less specialized positions--such data were tabulated according to length and level of curriculum. The organized occupational curriculums were divided into those requiring at least 1 but less than 2 years of work and those requiring at least 2 but less than 4 years of work. A distinction was also made between those curriculums that were below the technical or semiprofessional level and those at the technical or semiprofessional level.

Associate degrees awarded in organized occupational curriculums and simultaneously creditable toward a bachelor's degree were reported both in the count of associate degrees and in the count of organized occupational curriculums by field of study. Because of this overlap, the number of associate degrees plus the number of awards in organized occupational curriculums is greater than the total number of individual students receiving awards.

Verification of Data

In order to obtain complete and accurate data, each questionnaire was examined, analyzed, and verified. The data were compared with those in any available questionnaires for previous survey years. Reference was made, when necessary, to institutional catalogs and other sources for criteria and descriptions of associate degrees and organized occupational programs. The questionnaires were also reviewed for adherence to the instructions for completing the survey instrument. When appropriate, institutions were contacted by letter or telephone to obtain verification or revision of reported data. Clarifying information was given by many institutions for significant changes in their programs which would account for large increases or decreases in their reported data.

ORGANIZATION OF THE TABLES

Tables 1 through 4 present data both on associate degrees and on diplomas and other formal awards based on less than 4 years of work beyond high school in organized occupational curriculums. Tables 5 and 6 pertain only to associate degrees, and tables 7 through 11 are restricted to diplomas and awards in organized occupational curriculums.

Table 1 presents summary data on associate degrees conferred and also on completions of organized occupational curriculums; the data are classified by institutional control and by level of institution. Institutions are classified by level as "4-year" and "2-year." Within the "4-year" group, institutions are further classified as "universities" and "other 4-year and over." Classified as universities are institutions that give considerable stress to graduate instruction, confer advanced degrees as well as bachelor's degrees in a variety of liberal arts fields, and have at least two professional schools that are not exclusively technological. Other institutions offering 4 or more years of college-level work, but not meeting the criteria for classification as universities, make up the "other 4-year and over" group. The classification of "2-year institutions" includes junior colleges, technical institutes, and other schools offering at least a 2-year but less than a 4-year program of college-level studies.

Table 2 shows, by State, the degrees, diplomas, and awards summarized in table 1. In both tables 1 and 2, the data on occupational curriculums are combined by level and type of curriculum: Data on curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level are combined with data for curriculums below that level, and there is no distinction as to curriculum content.

Table 3 shows for each institution the numbers of associate degrees and of completions of organized occupational curriculums. Awards in organized occupational curriculums are reported separately by type of broad curriculum (science- or engineering-related, and nonscience- and nonengineering-related). However, in this table no distinction is made for length or level of curriculum.

Table 4 gives State data on associate degrees and on completions of organized occupational curriculums, classified by control and level of institution and by length of program Data are combined by level and type of curriculum.

Table 5 is a summary of types of associate degrees (associate in arts, associate in science, and all other associate degrees) by control and level of institution.

Table 6 gives data by type of associate degree and by State and institution.

Table 7 shows 3-year trends for completions of organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level by type of curriculum and field of study.

Table 8 is a listing of awards granted by each institution, by State and by type, length, and level of occupational curriculum.

Table 9 summarizes awards for organized occupational curriculums at the technical or semiprofessional level, with data by length and type of curriculum and by field of study.

Table 10 provides detailed field data for individual institutions at the technical or semiprofessional level. Table 11 presents data by type of broad curriculum for individual institutions below the technical or semiprofessional level. Data are classified by length of curriculum for both tables 10 and 11.

The following breakdowns of data may be obtained from the tables noted:

1. Control and level of institution	1, 4, 5, and 8
2. State or other area	2-4 and 6, 8, 10, and 11

INSTRUCTIONS

This report is divided into 3 parts.

PART A is concerned with first-professional degrees only.

PART B is concerned with bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degrees.

PART C is concerned with awards below the bachelor's level (Associate in Arts degrees and other formal awards).

Many institutions will appropriately skip one or more of the 3 parts. If a particular part (A, B or C) does not apply to you, please indicate that fact and forward that part to us along with those you did complete.

NOTE: Data acquired in this survey will be published in listings by individual institutions.

SEPARATE SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS ARE PROVIDED FOR EACH OF THE 3 PARTS.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR ALL PARTS

Please examine the definitions and instructions which accompany each part. If you need additional clarification on any of them, call Mrs. Mary Evans Hooper, (202) 962-7301 in Washington, D.C.

1. PROMPTNESS. Registrars are respectfully requested to complete the report form and return it to the U.S. Office of Education, National Center for Educational Statistics, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW., Washington, D.C. 20202, Attention: Room 1130-HEGIS by August 15, 1970. If degrees or other awards were conferred in 1969-70 for the FIRST TIME in a field of study new to your institution, please place an "X" in Column (4). This will save correspondence later regarding the entry.

2. INCLUSIVE DATES. Report degrees conferred from July 1, 1969 through June 30, 1970 including those granted at the end of the 1969 summer session.

3. THE INSTITUTIONS COVERED BY THIS REPORT. A separate report is requested from each branch or member of a system, as well as from each entirely independent institution, and each "parent" institution. Please provide the information requested in Item 6, which is intended to permit complete identification of the reporting unit. (Do not include awards by branches outside the United States, its Territories, or possessions.)

INSTRUCTIONS FOR PART C - DEGREES AND COMPLETIONS BASED ON LESS THAN 4 YEARS

1. Report in Section 1 all associate degrees requiring at least 2 but less than 4 years of work beyond the high school level. Include in Section 1 the associate degrees reported in Columns (4) and (5) of Sections 2, 3, and 4. For example, a student who has completed an organized occupational curriculum in Chemical Technology and received an Associate in Science degree would be included both in Section 3 (Item 2619) and in Section 1 (Item 0040).

2. Report in Sections 2, 3, and 4 completions of WHOLE CURRICULUMS only, NOT INDIVIDUAL COURSES. For purposes of this survey, an ORGANIZED CURRICULUM is one which meets all four of the following criteria:

A. High school graduation (OR ITS EQUIVALENT), but no work beyond high school, is required for admission to the curriculum. The general level of these curriculums is the first one to three years beyond high school.

B. The curriculum is a series of required and elective courses constituting an integrated program designed to prepare students for IMMEDIATE employment in a SPECIFIC occupation or cluster of occupations. A group of courses, even though all of them are in a given subject area, do not necessarily constitute a curriculum.

C. Completion of the curriculum requires at least one but less than four years of full-time attendance, or the equivalent in part-time attendance over a longer period. A "year" means an academic year of approximately nine months.

D. The curriculum leads to ANY type of formal recognition (certificate, associate degree, diploma, a transcript recognizing successful completion, a statement of completion from an administrator of your institution, or other FORMAL recognition) signifying that the student has completed an organized curriculum; or the State grants a license or other formal recognition, upon examination, to all graduates of the curriculum.

Report in Columns (4) through (7) of Sections 2, 3, and 4 only those associate degrees, diplomas, certificates, or other formal awards signifying the completion of organized curriculums which prepare for occupational competence in the specified fields or areas. The associate degrees reported here should also be included in the totals requested in Section 1. Formal awards other than associate degrees in organized occupational curriculums should be reported only in Sections 2, 3, and 4.

3. Note that, for purposes of this survey, organized occupational programs are NOT designed as the equivalent of the first one, two, or three years of a baccalaureate degree program. Example: pre-engineering is NOT an organized occupational curriculum as defined in this survey, because it is designed to prepare students for continuation in the regular engineering program. Engineering technology IS an organized occupational curriculum, as defined in this survey, because it is designed to prepare students for immediate employment upon completion. Note that work taken in an organized occupational curriculum may be partly or wholly creditable toward a bachelor's degree and it may lead to an associate degree; the essential point is that the organized occupational curriculum prepares for immediate employment in a specific occupation.

4. Part C has been changed from the 1968-69 format by the addition of total columns for all line entries and the addition of area sub-totals. Before submission, please verify that the total column is the sum of the columns for all line entries. In addition, the subtotals are to be the sums of the specified preceding lines for every column, and the sums of the entries under the "total" column should equal the sums of the other columns on each total line.
